Editorial

Welcome to the summer edition of In Touch.

Hopefully now we can look forward to sunshine, putting into distant memory the seemingly endless rain.

In this edition, you will find the usual news from around the branch, the peals and quarter peals members of our branch have achieved, forthcoming events, and the start of a discussion into what the branch means to us.

The incoming Mayor of Milton Keynes is a ringer; see what challenges he has set himself!

Your news, views and events are the lifeblood of this publication, and it would not exist without them, so please continue to send me such correspondence; if it is interesting to you, then it will be interesting to others in the branch.

Branch Summer Social and Striking Competition at Great Linford

Advance notice of this year's summer social and striking competition which will be held at Great Linford on Saturday 30th June.

It would be great to see as many towers as possible enter a band - you can ring whatever you are happy with - call changes or a method. There were only two bands competing last year so we are hoping to get a lot more this year - you've got a couple of months to select your band and practice your chosen test piece.

Practice Night—St. Mary's Whaddon

The regular practice at St. Mary's, Whaddon continues on the first Friday of every month. All abilities are welcome, and every effort will be made to accommodate you. Please join in this friendly practice on a fine set of six (Tenor 16 hundred weight).

Midweek Ringing Group

At the North Bucks Branch AGM held on 21st April it was suggested that a midweek, daytime ringing group be set-up for those members who were available to ring weekday daytimes. This group will meet on a monthly basis on the 2nd Thursday of every month. Ringing will be from 11.00am to 12.30pm and is open to all ringers from the branch (and any visitors). Where possible tea and coffee will be served. After ringing there will be an opportunity go to a suitable local hostelry for lunch.

Arrangements are being made for the rest of 2018. The first date is the 2nd Thursday of June i.e. 14th June at St Andrews, Great Linford (MK14 5AU) from 11.00am to 12.30pm, followed by lunch at The Nags Head, High Street, Great Linford MK14 5AX.

Do come along if you are able. If you need any more information please feel free to email me on read887@btinternet.com

Our Branch

The 21st of April saw the revised date for the branch AGM, delayed due to the snow we had in March.

To that meeting, 25 members had been impassioned, able or interested enough to attend, excluding branch officers.

In 2018, the branch membership is recorded as 219, - approximately 11% of the membership had attended.

From the records available, concerningly, this small proportion represents one of the better branch turnouts; previously in 2017 = 37 members; 2016 = 31 members. As you see, attendance is falling.

At the AGM, our Secretary, Gary Reading, made it clear that he wishes to stand down. Nobody offered to take-up this constitutionally vital role. Gary then agreed to continue in the role until at least the officers meeting in July, to allow for the word to spread about the vacancy.

Both the Chairman, Graham Bartholomew, and the Treasurer, Anne Nightingale, indicated that they would stand for office again, if no one else wished to take the roles.

No one stood for the RDL roles. At the subsequent officers meeting, on the 22nd of April, the branch officers decided to abandon the role, making Graham Bartholomew (in a second branch role) and Simon Head joint Ringing Masters. Also agreed at the officers meeting, was that Simon would take on the role of webmaster from the Secretary, given his professional qualification.

Oxford Diocesan Guild (ODG) rules make it clear that the branch officers must consist of a Chairperson, a Treasurer and a Secretary, although rules do allow for the Treasurer and Secretary roles to be combined.

The branch will be without a secretary later this year, and there are no clear guidelines from the ODG on what this would mean for the branch. The serving officers are largely in place on the basis that no one else is willing to take on the roles. It is therefore unclear what would happen if other officers, made despondent by the extra workload or indifference for the membership, resigned.

To impose this role on the treasurer, if they were able to take on the extra responsibilities, would mean fewer people taking greater work.

With such low turnouts to branch events, and so few willing to participate in running the branch, it is time to ask –

What is the point of the branch?

Only 7 of the 21 branch events since January 2016 have achieved more than 20 members attending, and none greater than 37.

These concerning statistics argue strongly that engagement with the branch is very low, and while content to pay membership fees annually, members seem to ring independently of the branch.

The officers are concerned at the low turnouts. While communication has been mooted as the reason for this, these pages are widely circulated, and emails regularly sent; it is unlikely that the membership is unaware of the events.

Could the officers go to each tower, and speak to each member? Yes, and lose time that could be spent ringing, part of the skill they enjoy. They could spend money on fuel, and work fruitlessly towards a membership that feels indifferent. There are now only 7 officers. Yet more work, for so few people.

It is clear that there are towers who only interact with the branch when Guild subs are due, and when the tower is approached to host an event that will attract a small proportion of the members. Speaking to the individuals at such towers, it is clear they do not feel the branch means much to them.

Ringing continues regardless of the branch. The first Friday of every month sees a general practice at Whaddon, originally aimed at developing newer ringers, which has now moved on to more advanced ringing. This event was not embraced by the then branch, who wanted branch practices to be the centre for branch ringing learning. This practice attracts members from both Central and North Bucks branches, and is one example of the membership filling a void the branch has not been able or willing to fill.

Why are branch practices so poorly attended? Anecdotal discussion seems to find that newer or less skilled ringers are put off by a perception of ringing snobbery, and they feel less welcome.

One sad tale tells that a new ringer, attending their first branch practice, and asking for Bob Doubles, which they were learning, was asked if “that is all you can ring?” The branch should be shocked by such an occurrence, but it is just as likely that similar or worse tales of unwelcoming atmospheres could be recounted.

There are those who are willing to help organise branch events, and those people are so valuable. There are those who have served the branch as an officer, and they should be thanked for their contribution.

Could some of these fine folk be persuaded to return to the fold?

There are many in the branch who have not served, and they should ask what they could do, if they want the branch to have a future.

The point of this article is to inspire a debate about the future.

If it does not fire your opinion, then the future is clear; the branch has ceased to be relevant and no longer serves a purpose.

If this does impassion you, then turn up at a branch event. Offer to serve the branch, all roles can be shared, and your input and energy valued.

Write to the editor and tell the branch what you think. This debate affects all the membership.

The End of an Era

Silently, without ceremony or acknowledgement, and by a simple conversation, a centuries old village tradition came to an end.

St. Mary's, Whaddon has abandoned tower practices.

After decades of tireless work by Derek White, the Tower Captain at St. Marys, the band now consists of only four members; insufficient to carry out practice or to train new recruits.

In many articles in the Whaddon Quarterly, the local parish newspaper, both Derek and the Churchwardens of St. Marys have made it plain that the bells will largely fall silent without new members. The village has voted with its feet, and the democracy that we cherish as a nation has sealed the fate of ringing – the village no longer wants ringing.

For years Whaddon has increasingly relied upon ringers from outside of the village to make up the numbers, but with the skill in rapid decline nationwide, that source of support is all but exhausted.

While the four remaining ringers will endeavour to rally support for the second Sunday service, Christmas, weddings and other special events, this will be come increasingly challenging over the next few years, without the regular connection to ringing.

The regular first Friday of each month practice continues at Whaddon.

The Mayor of Milton Keynes' Challenge

From the middle of May I will have the honour of being Mayor of Milton Keynes. One thing mayors are expected to do is raise money for their charity.

I have decided to combine this duty with my activities as a bell-ringer, and have challenged myself (for my charity) to ring a quarter-peal at every tower in Milton Keynes Council's area during my year of office – there are 26 towers by my reckoning. If you're not sure of the boundaries of Milton Keynes, this means every tower in the branch from Calverton eastwards, and Fenny Stratford/Bletchley northwards.

To make the challenge both more difficult for me, and more challenging for other ringers, I intend that every quarter should include as many local ringers as possible, and at least one first of some sort.

Obviously I can't do this on my own – I need your help. Please contact me (on martinpetchey49@gmail.com or 07712 485255) if you want to be involved, or if as a tower you can organise a quarter for me at your tower.

Use this as an opportunity to challenge yourself, too – to ring a new method, or on higher numbers than usual; I look forward to hearing from you

Equal Rights for Women - Anniversaries

There are some key anniversaries coming up which may be of interest and worth special ringing - maybe a ladies band touch/quarter/peal?:

- * Monday 2nd July is the 90th anniversary of women winning equal voting rights to men in the UK (Equal Franchise Act);
- * Sunday 21st October is the 60th anniversary of the first lady peer entering the House of Lords;
- * Wednesday 21st November is the centenary of the Parliament (Qualification of Women) Act allowing women to stand for Parliament;
- * Friday 14th December is the centenary of the first general election in which women in the UK were eligible to vote

Guild Website

The last 6 months has seen a lot of work go into the development of a new Guild Website. The aim is to create more dynamic, up-to-date and user-friendly website to serve the needs of the Guild's members.

The "development" version of the site can be viewed at <http://www.odg-dev.timsawers.com/> Please be mindful that this is a development site, and there are still tweaks and changes before it goes live; the intention is to go live with the new site as soon as possible, however any feedback would be gladly received.

There are also some new social media profiles.

Facebook:

<https://www.facebook.com/Oxford-Diocesan-Guild-of-Church-Bell-Ringers-2062157157396367/>

Twitter: <https://twitter.com/ODGCBR>

Youtube: https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCoL-6oUPIfXYJzKTEI8_LUw

Please do like, follow, favourite etc if you use any of these platforms. Naturally, these are a little sparse at the moment, however should you have some content (such as video), I would be more than happy to post these on your behalf. The hope is that some of these channels can help improve (NOT replace) communication between the guild and its members.

I'd like to thank in particular Elva Ainsworth for driving the development of the new site, and Doug Beaumont for his wisdom and advice. Also to Tim Sawers, who has put many long hours into development.

If you would like to pass on any comments, please do get in touch at
